THREE BRITISH SOLDIERS KILLED

HOSPITALS IN CHINA Faced With Task Of Appalling Magnitude

Shanghai, Oct. 29: "Ranking has literally gone underground" said Mr. C. J. Chancellor, Reuter's Manager for the Far East on returning to-day from the capital. He said that he was greatly impressed with the anti-air raid routine. After the second siren the whole population takes to dugouts, streets are cleared and business is suspended. All emerge from the ground to resume normal activities when the all clear is sounded. As well as private dugouts all the main streets have public dugouts.

Mr. Chancellor remarked that a task of appalling magnitude faces the hospitals where there is a hopeless lack of organisation and supplies. China was completely unprepared and unequipped to face the colossal problem which can only be compared with the Crimean War only on a larger scale.

The hospitals are facing a tragic shortage of doctors and nurses. Dr. J. Heng-Liu, Director of National Health Administration, is arranging to bring out a party of Austrian doctors who are enrolling in Vienna. The real hero of the tragedy was the common Chinese soldier. The wounded are all bearing their sufferings patiently. —Reuter.

CHINA'S FIVE DEMANDS

Shanghai, Oct. 29. The "China Times" states that it is reliably informed that instructions have been furnished to the Chinese delegation at the forthcoming Brussels Conference and that conformably with these instructions, the delegation will demand:—

(1) That the Japanese troops be entirely and unconditionally withdrawn from North China, Manchukuo and the Shanghai region;

(2) That all Chinese territories occupied by the Japanese shall be restored to China;

(3) That all treaties concluded between China and Japan since 1931 be abrogated;

(4) That an end be put to all the illegal acts by the Japanese on Chinese territory;

(5) That Japan shall abandon her so-called Pan-Asiatic policy and undertake to henceforth absolutely respect China's sovereignty. —Transocean News Service.

PROJECTILES FALL DURING SINO-JAPANESE BATTLE WITHIN WESTERN SECTOR SERIOUS INCIDENT AVERTED IN SOOCHOW CREEK

SHANGHAI, OCTOBER 29: THREE MEN OF THE ROYAL ULSTER RIFLES WERE KILLED AND SEVERAL WOUNDED, AND SEVERAL CHINESE WERE ALSO KILLED BY PROJECTILES FALLING WITHIN THE WESTERN DEFENCE SECTOR IN A SINO-JAPANESE BATTLE WHICH BEGAN AT 8.45 P.M. MANY SHELLS EXPLODED NEAR POSTS MANNED BY THE ROYAL ULSTER RIFLES WHO HAD TO TAKE COVER. THE JAPANESE ARE USING LAND AND NAVAL GUNS TO WHICH THE CHINESE ARE RELYING ON ARTILLERY FIRE. MAJOR-GEN. TELFER-SMOLLET WHO WAS QUICKLY ON THE SCENE IMMEDIATELY TELEPHONED TO VICE-ADMIRAL HASEGAWA AND THE CHINESE MILITARY AUTHORITIES INFORMING THEM OF THE SITUATION AND REQUESTING THAT STEPS BE TAKEN TO PREVENT THE ENDANGERING OF LIFE AND PROPERTY WITHIN THE PERIMETER. ONE SHELL FELL ON THE BRITISH COMPANY HEADQUARTERS IN JESSFIELD PARK BUT LUCKILY THERE WERE NO CASUALTIES. —REUTER.

Shanghai, October 29: The Royal Ulster Rifles' casualties, all of whom were Rifleman, were as follows:—

KILLED

Joseph O'Toole, from Dublin;

William Christopher Howard, from Dublin;

James Mallon, from Londonderry;

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Jack McInnis, from Strabane, County Tyrone;

Robert Delaney, from Belfast.

Mallon and Howard were killed when a shell burst at their post near the foot of the southern end of Jessfield Road Bridge. Seriously injured at the same time were McGuire and Delaney. Six out of seven men at the post were knocked out but were replaced quickly by another detachment. O'Toole was killed by shrapnel while having a glass of beer at the Honeyland Cafe opposite to Jessfield Park from where Russian barmaids who were terrified hurriedly evacuated. A Chinese barmaid named Mabel was injured. The Sino-Japanese battle ceased after Major-General Telfer-Smollet telephoned the Chinese and Japanese commanders. Both denied that their forces were firing but were told to "cut it out." Then the firing ceased. A shell fell in Avenue Haig, French Concession, this evening near the home of Major-General Telfer-Smollet. Two horses were killed at a Russian riding school. British troops in the adjacent danger zone have now withdrawn to West Park Mansions. The British Consul-General, Mr. Phillips interviewed by Reuter said that it was not yet definitely decided whose shell killed the British soldiers. He urges the suspension of judgment pending tomorrow's official investigation. —Reuter.

Shanghai, October 29: Prospect of a new danger to foreign areas in Shanghai is held out by an announcement that the Japanese military are considering action against Nantao "where there is evidence of a large number of Chinese troops erecting elaborate fortifications." British troops are placed in a dangerous position as a result of the transference of the fighting zone to the borders of the western defence sector manned by the Royal Ulster Rifles whose posts are more or less in the open country exposed to even slightly misdirected fire. It is feared that large scale hostilities will inevitably cause British casualties. Japanese troops tried to storm the stronghold of the dare-die Chinese battalion in Chapel during the night but they retreated in the face of a hail of hand grenades and machine-gun bullets. The beleaguered defenders continue to refuse all offers of an asylum in the International Settlement where they would be interned for the duration of the war. —Reuter.

Shanghai, October 29: A serious incident was averted this afternoon when two Japanese naval launches steaming up the section of the Soochow Creek which cuts through the International Settlement were stopped by a barrier of Chinese junks under the Chekiang Road Bridge. Major-General A. P. D. Telfer-Smollet, G.O.C., British troops in Shanghai area, and high officers of the French and American defence forces proceeded to the scene and had a parley with Japanese officials to arrange for the launches to return to Whangpoo. The launches slung up an aerial in order to communicate with Headquarters for instructions and also released five pigeons bearing messages. Japanese Headquarters instructed the launches to return. The Japanese claim that they only wanted the launches to escort the Settlement fireboat which at the request of the Japanese authorities went up Soochow Creek to put out a blaze in Japanese owned property in Chapel. The launches were each armed with three-pound guns and machine-guns. A serious incident might have occurred if the launches had been allowed to go on as they would have had to pass the buildings held by the doomed Chinese battalion. —Reuter.

Heroism Of 'Doomed Battalion'

Shanghai, Oct. 29: A letter written to a local organisation, by General Hsieh Chin-yuan, vice-commander of the "Doomed Battalion," now barricaded in the godown belonging to the Joint Savings Society in Chapel, has just been made public.

General Hsieh declares that it is the natural duty of soldiers to obey the orders of their superior officers and to defend their country. He assured that his men will sacrifice their last bullet and last drop of blood to resist the Japanese.

In a lengthy letter addressed to General Hsieh Chin-yuan, vice-commander of the "Doomed Battalion," and General Yang, commander of a company, General Sun conveyed the deep admiration and highest commendation of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

"Your determination to sacrifice your lives for the country," Gen. Sun told the 800 men, "opens a new and heroic chapter in world history. You have held out three days against our enemies and have won the admiration of the whole world as well as the Chinese and foreigners in Shanghai. This spirit is not only a glory to the country but also to the prestige of our National Army. I urge you to continue to fight and complete your mission to sacrifice your last drop of blood for the country." —Central News.

£10,000,000 Exhibition

The Empire Exhibition to be held in Scotland next year will be the largest since Wembley and will represent expenditure, direct and indirect, of about £10,000,000. The General manager states that great and rapid response had been made by industry and within three months of announcing that space was available for exhibitors there was not a square foot unlet.

Two industrial pavilions were planned but it had been necessary to erect a third and this would be fully occupied. The Exhibition will be held in Bellahouston Park, Glasgow, and will be opened in May, 1938. Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the Irish Free State will have pavilions and the Colonies will be extensively represented. The palace of engineering is to be more than five acres in extent and as befits the Clyde-side Exhibition there will be a comprehensive maritime engineering section. There will also be palaces of industry and fashion and many smaller buildings. —British Wireless.

JUDGE ON "FEARSOME" LEGAL WEAPON

Peculiar Right To Lodge Creditor In Gaol

"It is true that the peculiar right of a judgment creditor in Hong Kong to arrest his debtor and lodge him in gaol without any investigation by a Court of his debtor's ability to pay is a fearsome weapon, the use of which this Court will regard with no lenient eye; but to prohibit the use of that weapon here would, it seems to me, defeat the ends of justice," declared the Pains Judge, Mr. Justice B. E. Lindell, at the Summary Court yesterday, when he delivered judgment for plaintiffs with costs, in the summary jurisdiction action between the Kin Hing Company (plaintiffs), of No. 26 Sha Tin Tai, Kak Hang Village, and Tsang Shing (applicant) of No. 218 Shanghai Street, first floor.

The plaintiffs' claim against defendant was for the sum of $186.42 being balance due and owing by the defendant to the plaintiffs for work done and materials supplied in the building of the house owned by the defendant and now known as No. 26, Sha Tin Tai, Kak Hang Village, at the request of the defendant, full particulars have been duly rendered to the defendant by the plaintiffs.

Alternatively, the plaintiffs claimed the sum of $189.42 being the amount awarded by the District Officer, South at a reference to him for arbitration on February 2, 1937. Plaintiffs also claimed costs of action.

Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for plaintiffs, whilst Mr. Peter H. Sin represented the applicant.

Giving judgment, his Lordship, after setting out the facts, said:—

NOT PAID

The judgment debt was not paid, and on September 17, the plaintiff issued a writ of execution on which Wong Ah Heung was arrested as Tsang Shing at her house on the following day on her failure to produce or point out any property to satisfy the judgment. On her arrest the woman did not deny her identity with Tsang Shing, but when brought over to this Court and questioned as to her property, she then revealed her identity and said that Tsang Shing was her son.

Unfortunately perhaps for her the day was a Saturday and the time nearly 1 p.m. and no Judge or officer of the Court was available to adjudicate in the matter, and she was lodged in gaol where she remained for four days. On September 22 the present application came before me and I made an order, pending evidence and argument on the application, for her discharge from custody conditionally on her depositing the judgment debt and further costs.

FULLY ARGUED

"Since, then evidence has been given before me from which the above facts have emerged and the matter has been fully argued."

It is common ground that the judgment being by consent cannot be set aside or treated as a nullity.

Although the plaintiff had some reason to believe that Shing was a man, I hold that he was entitled to act on the woman's admission whether express or tacit to the District Officer of the name Tsang Shing and to sue her in that name and having got judgment to proceed to execution against her.

FEARSOME WEAPON

It is true that the peculiar right of a judgment creditor in Hong Kong to arrest his debtor and lodge him in gaol without any investigation by a Court of his debtor's ability to pay is a fearsome weapon, the use of which this Court will regard with no lenient eye.

AMPLE OPPORTUNITY

Moreover she had ample opportunity to reveal her identity and put forward her defence, if any, before and when the action came on for trial, but failed to give proper instructions to her solicitor. The application will therefore be dismissed with costs.

BEACH ATTENDANT GAOLED

Four charges were preferred against Chan Fuk, 27, unemployed, when he appeared before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Magistrate's Court yesterday. They were:—(a) larceny of a mah-jong set from No. 30 Kam Wah Street, ground floor on March 29, property of a shop-foki; (b) larceny of one hand-bag containing one cigarette case, one compact case, one pair of smoke glasses, $22 in Hong Kong currency, and five shillings at Big Wave Bay on August 31, the property of Miss Wikeley, 102 The Peak; (c) receiving the above; and (d) larceny of a wrist watch at Big Wave Bay on October 21, property of Mr. Mackie of the Great Eastern Telegraph Company.

Inspector A. Wright, prosecuting, said defendant was a sort of semi-official attendant on the beach at Big Wave Bay, and he, with several others, made a practice of stealing what they could when the swimmers were in the water. The total value of the hand-bag and its contents was $92 and of this only the cigarette case worth $45, had been recovered.

Defendant admitted all charges except (b) and on his pleas being accepted was sentenced to two months' hard labour on each charge concurrently.

Commander-in-Chief together with his Staff, followed by the General Officer Commanding, The Commodore in Charge, Hong Kong, The Officer Commanding Royal Air Force, and the Executive and Legislative Councils assemble at Government House and proceed to the Chinese Memorial Arch on foot.

DETACHMENTS ON PARADE
(a) Six buglers detailed by Officer Commanding, The 1st Bn. The Seaforth Highlanders.

(b) Chinese Ratings, Royal Navy.

(c) Hong Kong Naval Volunteer Force.

(d) Chinese Section, Fortress, Royal Engineers.

(e) Chinese Company, Hong Kong Police Reserve.

(f) District Watchmen.

WOMAN FINED

Exceeded Speed Limit In Nathan Road

Mrs. C. Clarke, residing at Homuntin Hill, appeared before Mr. K. Keen at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday on two traffic summonses for breach of speed limits in Nathan Road.

Assistant Sub-Inspector Baker, who prosecuted, told the Court that on October 3, while he was driving through the 20 miles controlled area, defendant suddenly overtook him at a speed of about 28 miles an hour. While coming out of the controlled area defendant's speed was also checked and the figure shown on the speedometer was in the neighbourhood of 45 miles an hour.

Sub Inspector Britton of the Traffic Department said that defendant had been driving in the Colony for only five months and these were the first offences.

A total fine of $25 was imposed.

PARKING OVERTIME

Several cases of parking in excess of the time limit allowed were dealt with yesterday at the Central Magistrate's Court.

Most of the infringements were in Pedder Street and the defendants were cautioned. Mrs. H. Gilmore, A. R. H. Esmail and B. J. S. S. Gallagher were among these.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST.

Subject: Everlasting Punishment

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ Scientist, to-morrow, October 31st, will be "Everlasting Punishment."

The Golden Text will be "Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O Lord, and teachest him out of thy law." (Ps. 94.12).

Among others, the following citation will be read from the Bible, "And it came to pass, that, as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples. And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil." (Luke 11:1-4).

The Lesson Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science Text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The prayer that reforms the sinner and heals the sick is an absolute faith that all things are possible to God;—a spiritual understanding of Him, an unselfed love. Jesus' prayer, 'Forgive us our debts,' specified also the terms of forgiveness. When forgiving the adulterous woman he said, 'Go and sin no more.' Truth bestows no pardon on error, but wipes it out in the most effectual manner. Sin should become unreal to every one. It is itself inconsistent, a divided kingdom. Its supposed realism has no divine authority, and I rejoice in the apprehension of this grand verity." (Pages 1:11, 354).

EYE FOR AN EYE

Mr. Laurence Housman, author of the sensational "successful" "Victoria Regina," has described the Archbishop of Canterbury as "one who favours belief in the Mosaic Law of vengeance—an eye for an eye, tooth for a tooth."

Speaking at a service in London in celebration of Gandhi's 69th birthday, he said: "Christianity was a fine religion for the first three centuries of its existence. During those years the doctrine of non-violence sustained the early Christians and made them powerful. Since the Church has become great in the State, however, it seems to have gone back to the days of cruelty and vengeance and the law of retaliation has again become the general belief. Even the Archbishop of Canterbury believes in retaliatory methods."

"GREATER ASIA"

Tokio, Oct. 28.

The National Assembly of Inner Mongolia, composed of 500 delegates representing 3½ million Mongols and 500,000 Chinese, is now meeting in the city of Suiyuan according to despatches here.

After one minute's silence in honour of the memory of Jenghizhi, Prince Wang delivered a speech.

At a subsequent reception of press representatives Prince Wang is reported to have declared that the Mongols must resolutely co-operate under Japanese leadership in building up a "Greater Asia" and thereby "liberate themselves from Communist oppression."

PALESTINE

COMMISSIONER'S

RESIGNATION

Sir Arthur Wauchop's

In Health

London, Oct. 28.

The Colonial Secretary announced
in the House of Commons an answer for the resignation on grounds of ill health of Sir Arthur Wauchop, High Commissioner for Palestine since 1931.

He said that since Sir Arthur
came on leave he had been suffering
from illness requiring treatment
in a nursing home. He is now recovering and hopes to resume his post in the middle of November, but intimated that he does not feel his health will permit his completing a full second term to 1941. He therefore asked to be relieved of his duties in the early part of next year.

Mr. Ormsby Gore added: "I wish to take this opportunity of expressing the Government's deep appreciation of Sir Arthur Wauchope's long and distinguished

services to the State, and am sure that the House will deeply sympathize with him in his premature retirement from an appointment
which he has filled with zeal and devotion in most difficult circumstances for no less than six years."

"INNER MONGOLIA"

Peking, Oct. 29.

The "Autonomous Government
of Inner Mongolia" was formally established in Kweihsia, capital
of the conquered province of Suiyuan, according to a semi-official Japanese report. The new state was voted into existence by the so-called National Assembly of five hundred delegates.

Prince Teh Wan, leader of the Mongol Autonomous Movement
declared that the Mongolians
under the leadership of Japan,
must go ahead and build up a nation and help Asia to cast off
the White Man's Yoke and resist
communism!

JAHANARA

Members of the local Indian community will be interested to learn that one of the most popular Indian pictures, "Jahanara,"
will be shown at the Alhambra Theatre to-morrow at 11.30 a.m., and although the proceeds will be devoted entirely to the funds of the Indian Company, Hong Kong Police Reserve, the pieces to be charged will, we understand, be extremely reasonable.

The film was secured by Mr.
Abbas Khan and given to the Indian Company.

The film was first shown here
last year and it proved so popular that when the suggestion
was made that an Indian cinema
show would be the best way of raising funds, it was unanimously decided that "Jahanara" would be the most appropriate film.

The story has as its background
the country of Arabia, the land
of romance, and members of the cast include Miss Kajjan, Miss Shella, Miss Violet, Miss Pearl,
Miss Rajakumari and Messrs.
Usur Affandi and Pearu Quwal.

"THEY CANNOT STOP US"

Washington, Oct. 29.

"The Japanese have declared
war on us now because they wish to stop our progress," said the Chinese Ambassador, Dr. C.T.
Wang in addressing the National Press Club Luncheon to-day.

"The Chinese have made more progress in the last decade than for centuries. We are ahead of the Japanese in the respects and they are afraid we will finish them.
They cannot stop us as the Chinese people have made up their minds to fight to the last man
and the last bullet."

THE ROAD BACK

Intensely human, powerfully
dramatic, a skilful blending of comedy, pathos, and suspense, is Universal's "The Road Back,"
which opens at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres to-day.

With the production of this vividly etched picture of life in Germany following the Armistice, James Whale, the director, has proved himself the peer of any of Hollywood's creative artists. His direction is never obtrusive, but underneath every scene, whether it is comedy or drama, his great genius develops the flow of the story.

Briefly, the story concerns the efforts of a group of boys to adjust themselves to conditions as they find them after an absence
of four years spent in the trenches. "The Road Back" takes up
where "All Quiet on the Western Front" leaves off. Both are by the same author, Erich Remarque.

"The Road Back" treats of the disturbance, the heartbreaking
revelations, which come to the ex-
soldiers as they find their ideals,

so closely held for years, trampled
under foot at home.

The cast contains 2000 players.
The story chiefly concerns John
King, Richard Cromwell, Slim
Summerville, Andy Devine, Barbara Read, Louise Fazenda, Jean Rouverol, Maurice Murphy,
Larry Blake, Henry Hunter, Noah
Berry, Jr., John Emery and Gene Garrick.

THEODORA GOES WILD

A brilliantly written, superbly
acted, delightfully directed romantic comedy, Columbia's "Theodora Goes Wild," which opened Thursday at the Majestic Theatre,
definitely "chooses to run" in the annual critical pow-wows which decide the year's "ten best" pictures.

"Theodora Goes Wild" is screen
entertainment which combines
delightful nonsense with a plausible story, scintillating performances by Irene Dunne, Melvyn Douglas and a large supporting cast, sparkling dialogue by scenar-ist Sidney Buchman and truly inspired direction by the versatile Richard Boleslawski.

PRINCESS'S NEW HOBBY

Collecting Scots
Gems

Princess Elizabeth is full of a new hobby—the collection and
mounting in jewellery of the gems
to be found in Scotland.

Impressed by the beauty of
agates and pebbles she had seen
in Scottish jewellery, the Princess has been searching the rocks near Balmoral to find some of these stones for herself.

Before coming south the Queen
summoned to the Castle Mr Norval Scrymgeour, a Fellow of the Antiquarian Society of Scotland, and one of the most enthusiastic collectors of Scottish gems.

"The Princess" he told a reporter, "is receiving the utmost encouragement from the Queen
and from the Queen's mother, the Countess of Strathmore."

"I was very happy to be able to give the little Princess, through Her Majesty, some hints as to what to look for and to find that the Queen is very much interested in the precious stones of Scotland
and that she thinks a larger use
might be made of them."

"The Queen accepted, for Princess Elizabeth several specimens
from my own collection of gems,
and for herself a beautiful example of a 'grannie's brooch,' one of the old plaid jewels of Scotland.
It consists of a big pebble set in silver. She pinned it in the dress
she was wearing."

London, Oct. 29.

It is understood that Russia has notified the Non-Intervention Committee that she does not wish
to contribute any further funds
towards the Non-Intervention
Board and the cost of the Spanish
control schemes, but will remain
a member of the Committee. It is believed that Mr. Malsky has notified Mr. Anthony Eden to this effect last night.

The Russian viewpoint is believed to be that since the sea
control scheme is abolished, observation on Spain has become worthless. If, as proposed by the present plan and sea control were to be restored and strengthened, presumably Russia
will be prepared again to contribute her share.

The great majority of members of the Non-Intervention Committee
wished non-intervention to continue, stated Lord Cranborne in the House of Commons. He added that there was not a single member of the Committee on Tuesday
last who did not accept the resolution except Russia and he thought it might be hoped that even Russia on Friday might see her way to accept.

NO DELAY OF MAIL

London, Oct. 29.

I understand there has been no case where the Japanese military authorities have censored or delayed correspondence between His Majesty's government and His Majesty's representatives in China," stated Lord Cranborne in a commons reply to Mr. Nathan.
though some official correspondence had been delayed. Similarly ordinary mails were held up through interruption of the normal services. The situation in this connection, however, appears to have improved.

TOMMIES' FINE RESCUE WORK

GALLANTRY PRAISED
Mayor Yui Expresses
Chinese Thanks

Shanghai, Oct. 29. The humaneness of the British troops who risked their lives to help refugees from the fighting zones and gave first aid to those wounded has created the deepest impression.

Mayor O. K. Yui, speaking to representatives of the world's press, said that the whole Chinese community in Shanghai joined in the thanks, which he has also extended to the U. S. Marines and the Italian Savoy Grenadiers.

Instances of their gallantry are too frequent to specify, but typical was an instance yesterday when eight men of the Royal Ulster Rifles, seeing 15 Chinese women and children trying to cross the damaged Jessfield Bridge, went to help them despite machine gun fire from Japanese.

Taking their lives in their hands, the British Tommies rescued the whole party except one woman who died. Several children who were wounded were carried back to safety.

500 DOOMED MEN STILL HOLDING OUT

Poignant Farewells
To Families

Shanghai, Oct. 29. The whole of China is watching with admiration the epic stand of the 500 doomed Chinese soldiers who are still holding out in Chapel, choosing to die fighting although offered sanctuary in the Settlement.

The doomed men are holding a group of buildings in North Soochow Road, directly opposite and in full view of the Welch Fusiliers, who have already accepted and mailed farewell messages for the families and sweethearts of the heroic Chinese battalion.

Meanwhile, numerous appeals, including at least two from high foreign military commanders, are being made to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek urging him to command the battalion to retire while there is still chance of their being saved from destruction.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES FOR NANKING

Nanking, Oct. 29. A large quantity of medical supplies and warm clothing have been brought to Nanking by Mr. Pang Ching-Chow, Secretary-General of the China International Red Cross Society, for use in the base hospitals in the capital.

Over 1,000 Chinese wounded soldiers, according to Mr. Pang, are receiving medical care in these hospitals, whilst arrangements have been made for the use of a part of the National Central University to accommodate 5,000 more wounded.

FALL OF NIANGTZEKUAN PASS CONFIRMED

Taiyuan, Oct. 29. The fall of Niangtzekwan Pass, the gateway to east Shanxi, into the hands of the Japanese was confirmed in a Chinese official report.

The report stated that with the aid of heavy artillery and tanks the Japanese launched an intensive attack on Kuteh, a little distance south of Niangtzekwan Pass, on October 26 and 27. With all defence works levelled to the ground the Chinese defenders were forced to retreat, despite the arrival of reinforcements.

With the fall of Kuteh the Chinese positions at Niangtzekwan Pass, the report revealed, were greatly menaced. A strategic withdrawal was therefore also made by the Chinese forces garrisoning the point.

The retreating Chinese forces are now concentrated at Yangchuan west of Niangtzekwan Pass on the Cheng-tai Railway, where they decide to halt the Japanese advance.

WUSHI WORKERS' UNION URGES SANCTIONS

Nanking, Oct. 29: The Workers' Union at Wushi has sent a telegram to Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese Ambassador to France and China's Chief Delegate to the League of Nations, requesting him to urge the League to immediately apply effective sanctions against Japan for her military aggression in China.

The telegram also asks Dr. Koo to report to the League that large numbers of Chinese factory workers at Wushi were killed by Japanese aerial bombings in flagrant violation of the principles of humanity and international law.

Shanghai, Oct. 29: Continuing their routine night attacks, Chinese planes raided the Japanese warships in the Whangpoo River in three relays between 9:40 o'clock and 12:40 o'clock last night.

Assisting the attacks of their planes, Chinese batteries at Pootung fired upon the Japanese warships during the raids.

REBEL LEADER CAPTURED

Once Tried To Seize Tientsin

Hsinhsiang, Honan, Oct. 29: Pui Chien-wu, notorious rebel leader who several years ago launched an abortive uprising in North China and tried to seize control of Tientsin, is reported to have been captured at Fehlsiang, in southern Hopel, about 20 miles from the Honan border.

The capture was effected by Mr. Chang Han-chuan, the Fehlsiang district magistrate, who led a group of Peace Preservation Corps members and stormed the town on October 28.

CAPTAIN EYSTON'S SPEED ATTEMPT

London Oct. 28. A message from the Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, says that Captain Eyston, British racing motorist, to-day drove his car "Thunderbolt" over a measured mile at the speed of 309.6 m.p.h., but failed to establish an official record because he did not make the return run on same course within the hour.

The record is now held by Sir Malcolm Campbell, who in September 1936, in his car "Bluebird," attained a speed of 301.29 m.p.h.

AMENDMENTS TO ADDRESS

One hundred conservative members of the House of Commons, led by Mr. Amery and Sir Henry Paget, have tabled an Amendment to the Address trusting that in any trade negotiations with foreign countries, the Government will make no commitments which might prejudice the full development of British industry or Imperial trade.

An Amendment tabled by Welsh members of all Parties regrets that the Speech contains no mention of legislation on matters of interest to Wales.

NO PEACE TALKS

Washington, Oct. 29. Officials of the State Department withheld comment on the statement from Japanese sources in Paris that Japan might be disposed to enter into conversations with friendly Powers with a view to the restoration of peace in the Far East.

A message from Paris, however, states that enquiries in that city completely discredited the Washington report regarding peace talks. Authoritative Japanese sources declare that any idea of an armistice can be denied.

STATION ON CHENGTAI LINE BOMBED

Taiyuan, Oct. 29: Shouyang, midway between Taiyuan and Niangtzekwan Pass on the Cheng-tai Railway, attacked by three Japanese planes at midday. More than 20 bombs were released on the railway station but caused slight damage.

The populace at Taiyuan were disturbed six times yesterday by the arrival of Japanese planes which reconnoitred the city but dropped no bombs.

Rome, Oct. 29. Many German officials and Nazi leaders attended to-day's celebrations of the 15th anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome, and when Signor Mussolini was introduced to the crowd, Herr Hitler's deputy, Rudolf Hess, and the crowd cheered enthusiastically.

The Duce addressed 200,000 Fascists at the Mussolini Forum, and he concluded his speech with a reference to his German visit and said that an even closer solidarity was developing between the two peoples, adding that Bolshevism must be eliminated from Europe.

Berlin: Herr Hitler sent a warm message of congratulation to Mussolini in which he refers to the march on Rome as the turning point in the whole development of Europe.

He expresses his warmest wishes "for your personal welfare, for the work in the service of Italy and for our common efforts for European civilisation and European peace."

Look at Your Skin

Skin Specialists declare that 50 out of every 100 women suffer from skin outbreaks, spots, pimples, blotches, and 'muddy' complexions UNNECESSARILY!

Ugly complexion faults are woman's most common enemy. Few escape. Some resort to heavy powdering in an effort to hide them. Whilst others, due to consistent wrong treatment, cause the skin to become highly sensitive, coarse and blemished.

To make your skin clear and healthy, your complexion fresh and smooth, use Cuticura.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant and mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dirt which causes blackheads, enlarged pores and ugly complexion defects. And to rid the skin of pimples, skin outbreaks, rashes or irritations use Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

Try Cuticura to-day. See how soon your skin improves, your complexion becomes smoother, more attractive than ever before.

Cuticura
For Clear Healthy Skin

Sold by all Chemists and Stores. Ask for Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. And for powder use Cuticura Talcum—exceptionally fine and pure, exquisitely perfumed.

YING WAH GIRLS' SCHOOL

Annual Distribution Of Prizes

Madame Wu Teh-chen, wife of the Governor of Kwangtung, distributed the certificates at the annual Speech Day of the Ying Wah Girls' School yesterday afternoon.

Welcoming Madame Wu to the School, Rev. Cheung Chuk-ling, referred to the wonderful work which both Madame Wu and her husband were performing at this time of national crisis, adding that all those girls who were leaving school should emulate the splendid example set by them. Duty to their home and loyalty to their country should be the guiding principle in their life after leaving school, he reminded the pupils.

Rev. Cheung was in the chair, and in addition to Madame Wu there were also present on the platform Mr. Y. P. Law, Inspector of Vernacular Schools, Mr. J. V. Boxer, senior missionary in Hong Kong of the London Missionary Society and the Headmistress, Miss D. Hutchinson.

The proceedings opened with the singing of the School Hymn by the girls, and after the Chairman had welcomed Madame Wu, the Headmistress rendered her Report.

SHADOW OF WAR

When the school year closed in July, the clouds of war were just beginning to gather in North China, and a new school year has now commenced under the shadow of war.

We felt that in present circumstances it was fitting that we should dispense with the usual concert programme which has come to be a part of our annual Speech Day. The money that would have normally been spent in connection with the use of the Church Hall or on costumes for a play, together with the amount that we should have spent on ribbon to tie the certificates we are sending to the Medhurst Girls' School, a school of the London Missionary Society in Shanghai, whose buildings have suffered very badly in the recent bombardments, and who are now facing the difficult task of making a fresh start.

FIRST SPEECH DAY

This is the first time that we have held a Speech Day in this Hall, and while we regret that we have had to limit the number of invitations sent out, we are exceedingly glad to welcome you here. At the close of the meeting the girls will return to their classrooms, and we shall be very happy if as many of you as can will walk round the school and see us as we are day by day in the ordinary routine of school work.

The opportunities which we have at the moment both to teach and to learn are a challenge to us to "redeem the time" and so to use each opportunity that the girls of this generation, as they pass out of school into the wider service of the community, may be worthy citizens of the great nation of which they are a part.

GLOUCESTER HOTEL ENTERPRISE

Dinner Dances With Cabaret Turns

Mr. Chessex's enterprise in making the dinner dances at the Gloucester as interesting and as enjoyable as possible this year, by engaging a completely new band with the addition of entertaining cabaret numbers, looks as though it is going to be well rewarded.

The inauguration of the new season last week, when the charming Worth Sisters appeared for the first time, saw the Gloucester roof packed with an eager and happy crowd, and every evening since the place has been echoing with the gay chatter and conviviality of a smart and cosmopolitan throng.

To-night, Lillian and Virginia Worth will say adieu to Hong Kong, and on Wednesday next Hugo and Jacqueline will make their bow.

TOURED INDIA

Hugo needs no introduction. Many will remember his appearance here in 1932. Since then, he has danced at the best places in many countries, and has toured India with his own revue company. Hugo was at one time dancing for C. B. Cochran, and also appeared with Josephine Baker at the Folies Bergere.

Jacqueline, with her luscious brunette beauty and her streamlined figure, is a perfect dancing partner. People who have seen her have been most impressed by the ease and grace with which she executes the various intricate movements in her dances. She teamed up with Hugo in Mexico some time last year when they were both dancing there, but before that her career had taken her from the World's Fair in Chicago to Earl Carroll's Vanities in New York.

FRENCH CAN-CAN

Although they are described as ballroom dancers, they have an extensive and varied repertoire, and their numbers include comedy, character, interpretative, eccentric and musical comedy.

One of their most popular dances, which never fails to intrigue an audience, is their impression of the French Can-Can as it was done in the Gay Nineties. A waltz which they call the "White Waltz" was a great favourite with the patrons of the Park Hotel in Shanghai, where their season lasted over four months.

Hugo, not content with being a dancer, is also a clever and original dress designer, and all of the dresses worn by his partner, Jacqueline, are his own creations.

ROSES ALL THE WAY

There is a reckless abandon
about the statements made by some of Japan's militaristic masters. We were once of the opinion that Koki Hirota took
the palm with the greatest of ease, but that worthy must now
look to his laurels because the active militarists have entered the dialectic field and they are certainly making things hum.

Comes Major-General Kita,
Chief of the Japanese Special Military Mission in North China,
and in an interview which we
published on our front page
yesterday he simply scattered roses all the way during the course of an initial interview.
Who would get the roses and who
the thorns we leave to the agile imagination of those who are
students of Japanese psychology.

Had Major-General Kita made
his advent into North China
complete with halo and harp he could not have lapsed more gently. Honey-tongued, mellifluous phrases simply dribbled
from his lips. We shall always regret our absence from a spectacle so touching as that afforded
by one who personifies all the brutality that Japanese militarism stands for having the unblushing insolence to insult
the Chinese intelligence by blandly declaring that "whatever
form of government was established in North China would be based on the wishes of the people of North China." He went a step further and expressed the hope, devoutly to be wished, that ultimately such government would
"coincide with the wishes of the peoples of the whole of China."

If there was a scrap of sincerity in that characteristic utterance, then Kita and his
crowd might have spared themselves the tedium of a journey to North China and stayed in their own country, and at the same time the masters of Japan could have ordered a general retreat of their hundreds of thousands of troops from Chinese territory
back to a well earned rest in their homeland, which, according to the travel advertisements,
must be a charming place, from the point of view of Nature at least, at this time of the year.

If Japan is at all desirous of terminating this hideous mess
and muddle which she has so wantonly created on China's northern frontiers, then all she needs to do is to get out of China
and leave people and territory
over which she has no jurisdiction
by right but only by might, to themselves to work out their own
national salvation according to their lights.

Shortly before Major-General
Kita gave vent to those windy
sentiments, his brothers-in-arms
had forced Chinese soldiers to dig graves into which they had thrown them after slaughtering
them. Almost at the time as this personification of Japanese frivolousness was billing and
cooing like a venturesome virgin,
his fellow-countrymen were machine-gunning defenceless refugees. Yet he scattered verbal roses all the way of his interview.

Lord's Prayer before committing

CRUELTY TO CHICKENS

A fine of $20 was imposed on Yip Sing-kee, a chicken dealer, by Mr. K. M. A. Barnett at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to the charge of having inflicted unnecessary suffering on his stock of chickens.

Defendant was taken into custody at the Yau-mati Railway Station compound where he was seen carrying the fowls which were crammed in 14 small baskets.

give credence to the statements,
official or otherwise, made by the Japanese militarists. Japan's perfidy has long been an established fact which has developed
since 1932 into a national characteristic as far as officialdom is concerned. In plain language,
the Japanese are not to be trusted.

There is one point in that Kita
interview which presumes far too much. It is this, namely, that Japan conceives of the establishment of a regime in North China
according to a pattern fashioned
by her and carried out according to a formula to which she has given her approval. "Where, we make bold to inquire, does the Central Government of the Republic of China come into the scheme of things? Surely the Japanese, even those militaristic
rulers who are blind with conceit,
are by now very well aware that China is united under the control of the Central Government, and
any negotiations for a settlement
must be made through the proper channels. China has long since passed the stage when she will submit to Japan foisting a puppet
state on any portion of her lawful territory. Japan should know that by now. If she does not, then let her make a careful survey of the glorious manner in which the Chinese have held the aggressor at bay during the last three months. China will continue holding-out for the next three years if necessary.

So, Kita, pick up your roses.
China does not want any bouquets
from you or your kind.

MALAYAN REVIEW

School Fees

School fees are in the limelight again, but the beam is considerably softened by the promise that, next year, the fees for pupils in all elementary and primary schools throughout the country are to be dictated by the "Malaya Tribune." The decision cannot fail to meet with the approbation of all. Though it does not cover the dictum was wrong and that Malaya is on the way to a settlement of one of the bitterest controversies that ever raged in her history.
The school fees have been a constant source of grievance since their introduction and their enforcement was in direct conflict with the educational policy enunciated as far back as the reign of Queen Victoria. It is the aim of the educational authorities in Malaya to establish as high a standard of literacy as possible. For that matter, it is the aim of the educational authorities in all countries. The high fees defeated that end because parents in many cases were unable to meet them. The consequence was that hundreds of children were denied what is the right of every child—a sound elementary education. While the decision to reduce the fees will be a relief to parents in poor circumstances, it will scarcely offset the cost of living which, for no apparent reason, has risen in the last few months.
Nevertheless, it is a move in the right direction and it is to be hoped that it will be found possible to extend the reductions to the higher standards without due delay. The ultimate goal of free elementary education for all is still far away. Whether it will ever be reached in Malaya, or whether the will to reach it exists, are other matters altogether, but it is worth while bearing in mind that it is a goal aimed at by all eminent authorities on education.

Local Broadcasting

When are the Malayan Governments going to put local broadcasting on a proper basis? This question has been asked several times in the past and the public will continue to ask it until it receives an official announcement as to what developments may reasonably be expected in this direction. The progress made in broadcasting in the Colony is due solely to the efforts of private individuals.
Penang led the way with its Radio Society and Singapore, with its greater resources, has gone one better by establishing the British Malayan Broadcasting Corporation. Yet the science has long passed the stage in this country at which its future should be left to a limited number of enthusiasts who must necessarily fit their ambitions to the dimensions of their purses. The Malayan Governments derive revenue from wireless licences and it is surely only in keeping with the accepted ideas of fairness that they should exhibit some practical interest in broadcasting. As it is, Malaya is far down on the list in regard to wireless development and, when the increasing importance of the Peninsula, both strategically and commercially, is called to mind, it is no creditable reflection on those in authority that broadcasting should be in its present backward state.

Poppy Day

The record sum of £544,301 was contributed in response to the 1936 Remembrance Day appeal for Earl Haig's Fund. This exceeded £216,999 the previous record of 1935 and by £438,301 the result of the first appeal made in 1921.

As has always been the case Malaya figures prominently in the list of contributions published in the Poppy Day report for 1936. The total contribution from Malaya, British North Borneo and Sarawak amounted to $9,401. Singapore collected $15,337. Penang $13,031.
Selangor $12,648 and Perak $12,125.

For the 15 years that poppies have been sold, England, Ireland, Wales and overseas have contributed £8,501,190 and Scotland (where the British Legion is a separate entity) £1,031,771.

"To Poppy Day," says the report, "belongs the distinction of being the world's largest one-day freewill offering for any charitable object, and certainly no other nation gives so spontaneous and generous an expression of its remembrance of the sacrifices of the Great War and its thankfulness to those who fought and endured
so much."

Emigration To Malaya

The rush of unskilled labourers from South India emigrating to Malaya either as passengers or as assisted emigrants, which commenced some eight months back, still continues. The British India Steam Navigation Company's Mail Steamer s.s. "Rohna" which sailed from Nagapatnam for Malaya recently carried about 1,100 assisted emigrants and 504 passengers from Madras and about 420 assisted emigrants and 1,080 passengers from Nagapatnam and about 200 passengers from the intermediate ports. About 1,250 passengers have been left behind owing to want of accommodation on board the "Rohna" at Nagapatnam. An extra steamer s.s. "Sadhana" has been arranged to convey these passengers to Malaya.

NON-INTERVENTION

MAIN OBSTACLE TO IMMEDIATE PROGRESS
WILL BE REMOVED

If Russia Falls In Line

London, Oct. 29. The Non-Intervention Sub-Committee will this afternoon resume consideration of the draft resolution setting out the Committee's programme of work in execution of the British compromise plan for Spain. All Powers represented, with the exception of Soviet Russia, has provisionally assented to this at Tuesday's meeting and their final approval after further communication with their Governments is expected to-day.

Russia's attitude will, it is assumed, be further defined.

Up to the present, subject to some modification made on Tuesday the Soviet representative has agreed to the consideration of recognition of conditional belligerent rights at sea to the two parties in Spain only after complete evacuation of foreign combatants has taken place.

In the British plan such recognition would be given when the Non-Intervention Committee places on record their opinion that arrangements for the withdrawal of foreign nationals are working satisfactorily and withdrawal has in fact made substantial progress.

It is felt in London that if it should be found to-day that the Soviet Ambassador has received new instructions enabling him to fall into line with the rest of the Sub-Committee on this essential point the main obstacle to immediate progress will be removed. Failing Russian agreement the question will arise as to whether the principle of unanimity hitherto followed in all the Committee's decisions should be abandoned and its work proceeded with without Russian support.

France and Britain would be willing to proceed and statements on behalf of Italy and Germany on Tuesday indicated their open minds on the subject. M. Maisky was alone in declaring that the practice of unanimity in international meetings must on no account be abandoned.

BRITAIN AND LEAGUEGovernment Believed
In GenevaMost Effective Action In Far East Dispute

London, Oct. 29.

Lord Cranborne, intervening in the debate on the Address, opened to-day for the Labour Party by Mr. Noel Baker, referred to the charges of the Opposition that omission of direct allusion to the League of Nations in the King's Speech meant that the Government had abandoned the League.

That was a conclusion as unwarranted as if they had argued in the absence of mention in the Speech of the maintenance of the Constitution that it heralded a policy of Red revolution. He could assure the House that the League remained the basis of British foreign policy.

In the Far East the League, he said, was faced with a problem of a very special character. The House knew that, throughout, His Majesty's Government had tried to keep as closely in touch as possible with Washington. That was something regarded as of the utmost importance, not only by us in London, but by Geneva also, and it influenced largely the decision to deal with the question by the Advisory Committee of 23.

When the Committee met it recognised two main tasks. The first was that it had to act as the mouthpiece of world public opinion. In pursuance of that it expressed horror at the inhuman and barbarous methods of warfare used in the course of the dispute, and it instituted examinations of events following the original incident of July 7.

As the result of completely objective and impartial examination of events following, the Committee came to the unanimous decision that Japan had not been justified in taking the action she had, and violated the Nine-Power Treaty and the Pact of Paris.

That report fulfilled the League's first task, but it had a second task of even more urgency and importance—to bring, if such a thing were possible, the conflict to an end. The League had not merely to decide what action may be in accordance with the Covenant, but also what action was most likely to be effective, and what was likely to be the most hopeful basis of consideration—the League acting alone or with some other Power. It was quite clear that the League acting alone would not bring in those non-member States whose co-operation would be necessary in any action, whether conciliatory or of any other kind. Was there any other basis which appeared more effective? There was the Nine-Power Treaty, which included all nations whose co-operation seemed essential.

In view of these facts, the Committee recommended that Nine-Power Treaty States be invited to meet and consider the dispute.

There were those who said that the League in addition to making recommendations should take economic action of its own. That ignored one essential factor. It was only when the extent of co-operation to be expected was known that you could tell whether any given action was likely to be effective. The basis of the League alone did not satisfy that condition, and to embark on that action without knowing whether it was likely to be effective would not only have been futile but definitely dangerous.

The action which the League did take, of consultation between States adhering to the Nine-Power Treaty, was the only hopeful line of approach.

NEW CHINESE LINE MAY PROVE DIFFICULT
TO JAPANESEPOLITICIANS DUBIOUS OVER
BRUSSELS CONFERENCE

London, October 29.

The effects of the Chinese retreat in Shanghai is widely canvassed by military observers who highly commend the skill and orderliness of the retreat. Although chary in prophesying they are inclined to think that the new Chinese line may prove more difficult to the Japanese than the old and on the contrary believe the Japanese must shortly reach the Yellow River.

The Stock Exchange is generally on an upward tendency on Far Eastern stocks but well informed city circles are not greatly impressed thereby although some buying from the Far East was reported this week, business either way being nevertheless restricted.

Politicians are dubious regarding Brussels.

Indications from trustworthy sources are that the Japanese are eager to obtain an armistice in Shanghai while even Japanese generals are reported to be becoming anxious over the huge commitments in North China and to the contrary it is not believed that the Chinese would accede to an armistice in Shanghai which would release Japanese troops for action in North China.

A highly placed commoner, according to Reuter's correspondent, is of the opinion that the best chance for peace would come when the Japanese realised the satisfaction with which other Powers watch them weakening themselves while the marvellous powers of recuperation of the Chinese are commonplace.

The Chinese Ambassadors to London, Paris and Brussels will represent China at the Conference.

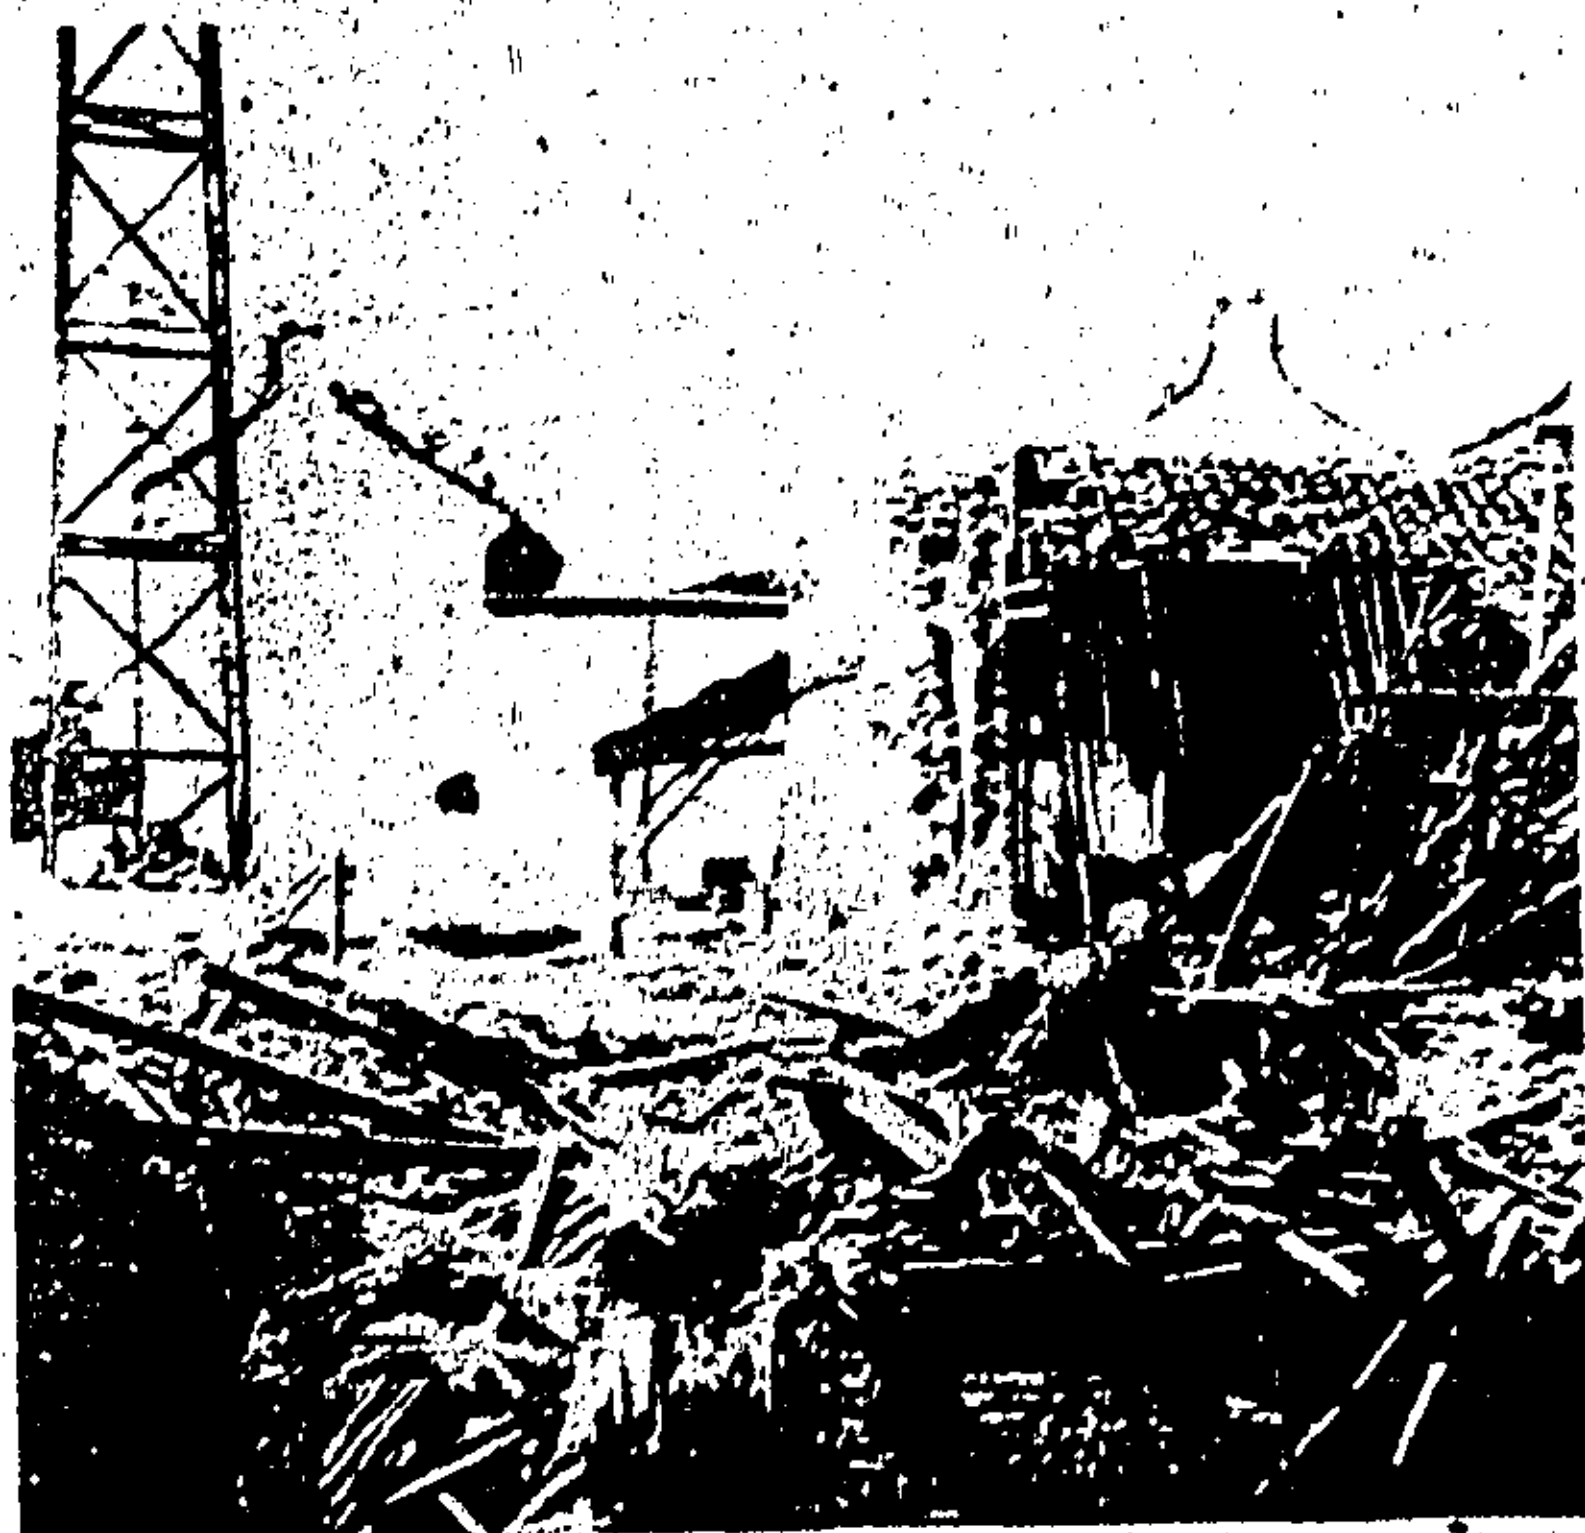

Washington: The "Baltimore Sun" is believed to reflect Mr. Norman Davis's views and says that U.S. participation at Brussels "reflects the growing fear of the administration to the consequences of American insulation."

Japanese Pan-Asianism

The undeclared war between Japan and China has brought to the forefront a number of Japanese leaders who have been living in semi-obscurity for the last few years. These include General Sano, Araki, the Number One Fascist leader of the Japanese Army, and Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, the Number One Fascist leader of the Japanese Navy, both of whom have stepped back into the limelight as members of the newly organized "Brain Trust" of Japan, that has been selected to mold the policies of the nation and to lead the Japanese people to victory.

A third Japanese leader to come out of retirement is General Iwane Matsui, former commander of the Japanese forces in Formosa, who has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese forces in the Shanghai area.

General Matsui is generally identified with the Araki Group of officers in the Japanese Army. He is also known as the founder of a reactionary society known as the Nippon Jyunkokukai (Sacred Society of Great Japan), which has devoted itself principally to monarchist agitation in the cities, thereby seeking to offset the growing power of proletarian organizations in urban districts. Matsui is more widely known, however, as the leading figure of the Dai Asia Kyokai, or Great Asia Association, in the promotion of which he has been joined by Prince Fumimaro Konoye, the present Premier of Japan, Koki Hirota the present Minister of Foreign Affairs, Admiral Viscount Chosel Ogasawara, Baron Yoshio Fujimura, Mr. Ichiro Tokutomi, Professor Muraoka and other outstanding personages of the Empire.

The set purpose of the Dai Asia Kyokai is that of "propagandizing for Japanese culture and arousing the peoples of Asia."

A COMMON BODY

The announced principles of the Great Asia Association state that "Asia is a common body, culturally, politically, economically, geographically and racially. The peace and prosperity of the Asiatic races are only possible when they combine. Conflicts among Asiatic countries tend only to give opportunities for outside interference. In order to stop conflicts among themselves and also to prevent outside interference it is absolutely necessary that all Asiatic races should be bound together under one organization. The chaos and dissimulation in Asia are not only unfortunate for Asia itself, but will also stimulate the ambitions of Europe or America. Unrest in the Orient means unrest the world over."

"A quarter of a century ago, Japan saved Asia from destruction," declared General Matsui and his associates, "by preventing the Russian invasion into Eastern Asia. History is now facing a great change with the outbreak of the Manchurian Incident. This is the time for Japan to direct her entire cultural, political, economic and organizing powers for the reconstruction of Asia and the federation of Asiatic countries, and for the awakening of the Asiatic races and the improvement of international organizations which are now based on European principles. Thus Japan should endeavour to improve international relations and create a new world based upon racial equality."

"ANTI-WEST CAMPAIGN"

General Matsui has devoted much time to the promulgation of his version of the Great Asia principle. Under the headlines "General Matsui Boosts the Anti-West Campaign," the British daily, "Japan Chronicle," published at Kobe, Japan, gave a brief account of one of his meetings that was held at Osaka on May 20, 1936. Gen. Matsui in his speech, according to the journal, said that Westerners look upon Asia as no better than a colony and he professed to be worried lest Asia be changed into a second Africa, to prevent which he urged that Japan must maintain a firm attitude. "It is," he said, "therefore necessary to combine all Asiatic races, politically, economically and culturally, so as to avert their falling victims to the rapacious Western Powers."

General Matsui went on to state that "An Asiatic Combine does not merely imply an economic bloc. Nor does it signify an Imperialist combination. Its real purpose is to liquidate all Western ideas and 're-awaken' in the Asiatic peoples pride in a culture peculiar to themselves."

THE KODO SPIRIT

Matsui then proceeded to recommend a display of the Kodo spirit in order that Asia should attain a position of equality with Europe and America.

The Kodo spirit, it may be remarked, is something so wonderful and so peculiarly Japanese that no one not a Japanese, according to their own claims, can understand it. Furthermore, it may be added that it is so wonderful and peculiarly Japanese that not even the Japanese themselves understand it, inasmuch as they have been unable to agree among themselves as to what it is.

General Matsui, however, insisted that the Japanese by developing Japan's traditional spirit of Kodo would be enabled to carry on the Great Asia Movement vigorously.

The activities of General Matsui in promoting a Japanese brand of Pan-Asianism did not escape the attention of the Chinese. The Japanese had made some futile efforts to interest Chinese in Kwangtung and Kwangsi provinces in the programme, thereby attracting the attention of the leading Chinese daily, the "Shun Pao," which in February, 1936, commented upon the Pan-Asianism advocated by General Matsui, calling attention to the fact that Matsui had not put forth any concrete plans. The comment of the "Shun Pao" is worth noting because it represents a typical Chinese view of Japan's Pan-Asiatic activities under the leadership of General Matsui.

CHINESE SHOULD LEAD

"If General Matsui's plan is similar to Mr. Hirota's," the Shun Pao continued, "it will also be similar to an Asiatic Monroe Doctrine and probably means that China should not seek American or European help in settling Far Eastern problems. Such a plan would incorporate the entire continent of Asia into the Japanese Empire. China is the largest nation in Asia and should by virtue of her size be the natural leader of such a movement, but we cannot lend our support to General Matsui's scheme."

"We believe," opined the Shun Pao, "that the Pan-Asianism as advocated by the Japanese is intended more as a policy against the Powers in Europe and America than as one for the good of the people of Asia. Japan has been deeply concerned with European and American political, economic and cultural influences which have been penetrating the continent of Asia. She is desirous that the Suez Canal become a dividing line between European and Asiatic influence."

Continuing, the Chinese daily pointed out that "The enforcement of the doctrine of Pan-Asianism will mark the beginning of China's conversion into a Japanese protectorate and the final control of Asia by the Japanese." The daily then added caustically, "If Japan is eager to liberate the people of Asia, she can still find plenty of work in Korea and Formosa. If she is eager to expound the cultural theories of Asia, she should reverse her aggressive policy in China and refrain from placing education work in Manchuria under a system of slavery."

The Shun Pao concluded by stating: "Furthermore, if she desires economic co-operation and mutual aid between the nations of the Far East, she should change her selfish policy of large-scale dumping in other countries. Otherwise, it is obvious that a Pan-Asia programme would merely create further ill-feeling by exposing more of the intrigues of the Japanese."

SHOULD BURY HATCHET

A careful examination of the various writings of General Matsui supports the view of the Shun Pao. For example, there is article by him, which appeared in the "Japan Times" on April 5, 1933, and another which was published in the "Peking and Tientsin Times" on May 18 of the same year. In both articles there is the same lack of concrete proposals for the betterment of the condition of Asiatic peoples, the same exhibition of bitter resentment against the nations of the West because of their dominant influence in international political and economic arrangements, and the same insistence that China "must co-operate" in the promotion of Japan's grandiose schemes. Matsui in the "Japan Times" declares that "the Japanese nation must strive for the awakening of China and making her tread on the right path." He insists that Japan and China "should speedily bury their past feuds and differences and liquidate all outstanding questions in order to form a great league or union of all Asiatic nations."

"MAD MILITARISTS"

Now that Gen. Iwane Matsui has been made Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese forces in the Shanghai area, presumably he is prepared to conduct his campaign for Sino-Japanese friendship on a still more intensive scale—with the aid of big guns and heavy bombers and Japanese bayonets.

The resistance of the Chinese to the terrific bombardments and bombings in all sectors of the front is eloquent testimony of how little liking the Chinese have for General Matsui and his officially supported brand of Pan-Asianism!

The Chinese are sufficiently alive to their own interests to have no serious objections to any reasonable scheme for advancing the legitimate interests of Asiatics, but what

YESTERDAY'S OFFICIAL QUOTATIONS

Business continued very restricted during the past week. A slight increase in enquiry was sufficient to raise prices to some extent, and to attract a few sellers, whose offerings were duly absorbed, but not of sufficient weight to sustain any improvement of consequence in the general level. In the latter part of the period under review buyers were inclined to hold for more attractive prices and demand remains unsatisfied.

Banks were in persistent enquiry again, up to $1585.00, while the Union market shows renewed steadiness at $510.00 buyers ex. div.

In London, Far Eastern quotations tended to improve. Manila rates were unchanged, in a succession of quiet markets.

NEW INDUSTRY FROM SHARKS

TESTS FOR OIL AND LEATHER

Scottish fishermen, convinced that the shark pest is the explanation for the poor condition of the herring now being caught, are considering creating a new Scottish industry.

The shark, which, after a recent epic struggle in which it towed harpoon hunters 100 miles during a 24-hour battle, now lies at a position marked by a buoy off the Mull of Kintyre. It is to be submitted to chemical analysis to ascertain whether a new Scottish industry for refining shark liver oil and for converting the skins of the shark into material for women's shoes would prove a commercial proposition. Specimens of its skin, flesh and liver will be tested.

It also became known that Captain I. L. Davis, leader of the party in the recent adventure, harpooned a second shark. He played it for an hour, but finally lost it.

Captain Davis set out later to recover the carcass of the giant shark. Its weight, however, was too great for his ship, the Myrtle, to raise it on board, and arrangements have been made for a vessel with a powerful crane to tackle the job.

Clyde fishermen are redoubling their demands for an immediate Government campaign for the extermination of the sharks. They point out that the monsters are eating vast quantities of the food ordinarily consumed by the herring

EMERGENCY CHINA FOOD PROGRAMME

LOANS FOR FARMERS

How Rice Shortage May Be Avoided

Canton, Oct. 29: More than $3,000,000 Canton currency has been loaned out to farmers for general production in 23 districts in Kwangtung province following the inauguration of the Emergency Food Programme six months ago under the supervision of Dr. D. Y. Lin, Director of the Bureau of Agriculture and Forestry. Since hostilities broke out in Shanghai arrangements have been made with the local banks for $1,500,000 to be used for loans for food production.

Dr. Lin disclosed that 100 technical men have been sent out to these districts to direct the distribution of the loans and to help the farmers purchase sufficient seeds and fertilisers for winter cultivation. With this financial and technical assistance it is hoped that the farmers can produce more food for the province during this emergency period.

A special Emergency Land Regulation, Dr. Lin added, is now being drawn up by the Provincial Land Bureau to facilitate the acquisition of the more accessible undeveloped agricultural land by the "landless" and jobless men. Chinese bankers in Canton are reported to be interested in the project and it is hoped that thousands of unemployed will take advantage of these regulations to assist in the food-production programme in the province.

ROUGH RICE

The present programme, in the opinion of Dr. Lin, is to promote and popularise the use of less polished rice and its substitutes, such as sweet potatoes, in all families. The provincial government is determined to enforce the use of rough rice, and has just promulgated a set of regulations prohibiting the milling of high-grade polished rice in cities and rural districts in Kwangtung.

Kwangtung produces annually about 112,000,000 piculs of unhulled rice or approximately 73,000,000 piculs of polished rice, which is insufficient for local consumption. Dr. Lin explained. There is generally a shortage of 10,000,000 piculs each year. Unless the people use more substitutes for rice such as sweet potatoes it is difficult to reduce this enormous shortage, he said.

JAPANESE "MOPPED UP"

Hsinhsiang, Oct. 28: Chinese military authorities claimed to have "mopped up" all Japanese remnants around Changteh and on the south bank of the Chang River in north Honan.

Japanese units at points between Paoting, capital of Hopei, and Shihchiachwang, the junction of the Peiping-Hankow Railway and the Cheng-Tai Railway, are said to have lost contact with each other as a result of the repeated attacks by Chinese flying columns.

Traffic on the Peiping-Hankow Railway, which reached as far north as Chihshien recently because of the war situation has now been extended to Changteh. It is learned from railway circles.

JAPANESE FAIL TO DISLODGE CHINESE

and claim that it is solely responsible for the poor condition of the herring now being caught in the Firth of Clyde.

The Clyde Area Committee of the Herring Industry Board, in a measure designed to meet the crisis which has arisen as a result of the poor quality of herring caught in the Firth, have officially announced in Cambeltown, recognition of the principle of the grading of herring, and henceforth there will be no restriction on herring which number less than 400 to the quarter cran basket.

The decision is generally welcomed by the fishermen, for the demand for larger herring far exceeds the supply.

BARRIE'S £173,467

To Former Wife

£2,000 LEGACY FOR MISS BERGNER

The estate of Sir J. M. Barrie, novelist and playwright, was proved yesterday at Somerset House, the gross value being £173,467, with net personality £40,475 has been paid.

He bequeathed £30,000 to Lady Cynthia Asquith; £6,000 to Peter Llewelyn Davies; £3,000 each to Lieutenant-Commander John Llewelyn Davies, Nicholas Llewelyn Davies and his niece, Madge Murray; £1,000 each to his nieces Lillian Barrie, Ethel Philip, Molly Barrie, Dorothy Smart and Irene Scott; £2,000 to Katherine, widow of Raymond Asquith; £2,000 to Mrs. Elizabeth Lucas, of Albany-street, Regent's Park; £2,000 to Charles Turley Smith, of Penrington, Cury, Cornwall; £4,000 to the widow of his nephew, Charles Barrie.

[Lady Cynthia Asquith was Barrie's Secretary for many years.]

[Mr. Peter Davies was adopted by Barrie and is stated to have inspired "Peter Pan".]

TRIBUTE TO BERGNER

"To my loved Elizabeth Czinzer, professionally known as Elizabeth Bergner," Sir James Barrie gave, "the sum of £2,000 for the best performance ever given in any play of mine—"The Boy David."

"To my dear Mary Cannon, with my affectionate regards, £1,000 and an annuity of £600."

[Mrs. Mary Cannon was formerly Barrie's wife. She was Mary Ansell, an actress in one of his early plays: "Walker London". They were married in 1894. The marriage was dissolved nearly 30 years ago. Later, she married Gilbert Cannan, the author. The different spelling is a mistake.]

£500 to General Bernard Freyberg, V.C.

£100 to Bella Addison, of Kilmuir.

"To my two splendid servants, Frank Thurston and Mrs. Stanley, £1,000 each."

£500 to Mary Hodges, formerly nurse in the Llewelyn Davies family;

£6,000 upon trust for his nephew, Willie Winter, for life, with remainder as he may appoint, or, failing appointment, to the residuary estate.

[Mr. Winter entered a caveat against the will, but it was withdrawn.]

GIFT OF "PETER PAN"

"The gift of 'Peter Pan' to the Hospital for Sick Children, Great Ormond-street, already made," Sir James Barrie stated, "must remain my chief charitable legacy, but I also give:

£5,000 to Edinburgh University;

£500 to the Bower Free Church, Calthness, in memory of the Rev. James Winter;

£500 to the Kilmuir Coal and Clothing Society;

£500 to the Public Nurse Association of Kilmuir.

To Lady Cynthia Asquith he bequeathed all rights in his plays and books, including all amateur rights in plays other than "Peter Pan" and other than the bequest to the Hospital for Sick Children;

As to "Peter Pan" he gave to the Hospital for Sick Children all performing rights to which his estate is entitled, whether in reversion on the determination of the assignment which she has made, during his lifetime, or otherwise. He also left to the Hospital all rights and interests whatever in the nature of copyright, or otherwise, which he could dispose of by will in the other works mentioned in the assignment to the Hospital.

LETTERS TO BE DESTROYED

Sir James Barrie gave his household and personal effects, MSS., books, papers, &c., to Lady Cynthia Asquith and Peter Llewelyn Davies, to be divided by them among his friends, mentioned in his will or not, but well known to them.

"I urgently desire," the will concluded, "that all my private letters be destroyed."

The residue of the property goes half to Peter Llewelyn Davies and half to Lady Cynthia Asquith.

LITERARY FORTUNES

Sir James Barrie's estate of £173,467 is one of the largest ever left by a British author. It was exceeded by Hall Caine, who left £250,000.

Annuities left by Barrie's contemporaries were: Rudyard Kipling, £155,000; Stanley J. Weyman, £100,000; Thomas Hardy, £81,000;

the united people of China do object to most wholeheartedly and with all the force at their command is that of playing the role of Japan's "Man Friday" in the fantastic schemes of the Japanese militarists, whom the Chinese regard as a little mad, for world conquest and domination.

A THING OF EVIL

Japanese Pan-Asianism, in the opinion of all classes of Chinese, is a thing of evil—it is bad for China, it is bad for Western nations and it is even bad for Japan!

To the specious pleas of men like General Matsui, the Chinese turn a deaf ear, reminding them in turn that reform begins at home. With a record of impoverished farmers in Japan, enslaved Japanese women and girls, corruption in all phases of Japanese political and economic life from which not even the Japanese Army and Navy are free nor even the highest functionaries in the land, with repeated massacres of Chinese not only in China and Manchuria but even in Korea and in Japan itself, with a record of broken pledges and with their demonstrated lack of capacity for intellectual and moral leadership, the Chinese will continue to resist the blandishments of Gen. Matsui and his fellows of a promised earthly paradise under the aegis of Japan.

DEMANDED MONEY FROM WOMAN

Chinese Sent To Gaol For Mean Trick

Chau Tung, 28, unemployed, appeared before Mr. K. Keen at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday morning on three charges of (a) theft of a letter on October 22, (b) demanding money on a forged document on October 25 and (c) breach of the Deportation Ordinance.

Detective Sergt. Franklin, outlining the case, said that defendant stole a letter from the entrance to a house at Cheungshawan Road, addressed to Cheng Kwai-yip from her brother. Having read the contents defendant re-wrote the letter in his own way informing Cheng Kwai-yip that she was required to transfer a sum of $20 to a certain man who would come to call for her.

The complainant, although suspicious of the tone of the letter, did not make a report to the police.

RETURNED BANISHEE

Three days later, defendant called in person claiming that he was the man to whom the former letter was referred. He then demanded the sum of $20 as mentioned.

Complainant's husband, who had been aware of the trick, detained defendant and handed him over to the police who later discovered that defendant was a banishee, having been deported from the Colony for 10 years in 1935.

GUILTY PLEA

Defendant pleaded guilty to all the charges and was sentenced to four months' imprisonment.

Sergt. Franklin informed the Court that the letter which should have been delivered to complainant on the third floor of the house, was left on the letter box of the adjacent premises. The postman was partly to blame for this negligence, and a report had already been made to the postal authorities.

HUGE INCREASE IN BUS TRAFFIC

Some interesting facts regarding local bus transport since the tremendous influx of refugees into Hong Kong as a result of the Sino-Japanese hostilities, were revealed by Mr. D. B. Evans at the Central Magistracy, yesterday, when he appeared before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest to answer, on behalf of the China Motor Bus Company, a total of 32 summonses for overcrowding.

Mr. Evans showed that since May traffic returns on Route No. 3 (Blake Pier to the University via Garden Road and Caine Road) had increased over 100 per cent passengers carried for September numbering 143,979 as against 71,527 for May.

He said that conditions were absolutely abnormal and that the fault lay not so much with the Company, but with the passengers. Out of a total of 18 summonses against the conductors of the Company, said Mr. Evans, fourteen had been duplicated against the management.

Inspector S. C. Saunders, who prosecuted, agreed to withdraw these summonses and to proceed only against the manager.

After lengthy evidence was taken, His Worship said he regarded the summonses purely and simply from the view of public danger, danger to the passengers and other users of the road. In respect of the 14 summonses against the manager, a fine of $5 on each was imposed. On the four against the conductors, a fine of $3 each was inflicted.

MR. W.J. KESWICK

Engagement To Daughter Of Sir Francis Lindley

London, Oct. 29.
The engagement is announced between William Johnston Keswick, of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co. Ltd., and Mary, youngest daughter of Sir Francis Lindley, P.C., G.M.G., C.B., C.B.E., former British Ambassador to Japan. —Reuter.

R.M.A. "DORADO"

The R.M.S. "Dorado" left Hong Kong for Penang yesterday at 11.05 a.m. with two passengers, Mr. Richard Coke (British) from Hong Kong to Baghdad and Mr. George Straker (British) from Hong Kong to Baghdad. She carried 3,574 kilos of freight and 290,818 kilos of mail.

This victim of Japanese barbarism was employed in a small hospital in Hongkong. With hands tied behind his back and blindfolded, he was bayoneted in the back of the neck and pushed into the river. He is the only survivor of nine men, and is an inmate of the Chinese Lester Hospital at present.

VARIETY CONCERT

At Queen's Theatre On Nov. 17

The variety concert to be held at the Queen's Theatre on Wednesday, November 17, under the auspices of the Y's Men's Club of Hong Kong, promises to be a most enjoyable event. It is being staged with a very commendable purpose in view, and that is to raise funds for war relief in North China.

Preparations are now in full swing, and judging by the list of well-known names contained in the proposed programme, the show should turn out to be a great success.

George Gochanoff and some of his star pupils are going to stage several new dances. Then there is little Delle Ellis, a clever little youngster from Shanghai, whose inimitable musical turns have won her enormous popularity in concert and radio work up north. Jack Grenham, who is seen only too seldom, will be making a very welcome reappearance.

A full programme will be published later.

BRITISH STEAMER RELEASED

London, Oct. 29.
The London steamer Stanray, 880 tons, which was captured by a Spanish insurgent trawler on Tuesday was released on Wednesday. The release followed representations by the British destroyers Electra and Escort that the steamer was outside territorial waters when captured off Aviles in northern Spain. The two destroyers were sent to investigate following a wireless report from the Stanray.

FOSSILIZED CRAB UNEARTHED

London, Oct. 29.
A fossilized crab has been unearthed during excavation work on the Highgate tube extension at a depth of approximately 86 feet in London clay of the Eocene period—the earliest of four divisions of the Tertiary era. Calculations suggest that London clay was deposited some 50,000,000 years ago.

NEWS BREVITIES

The following reports were made to the police yesterday:—
Mr. A. Simpson residing at No. 290 Prince Edward Road, states he lost an attaché case containing some important papers and a cigarette lighter, between the S.S. Ranchi and his residence.

Mr. Littlewood, residing at the Y.M.C.A., notifies the loss of his motor cycle at Gascoigne Road, where it was parked.

Miss Kew lost a handbag containing a fountain pen, a pair of glasses and $48 in cash, from a counter on the first floor of the China Emporium on Thursday afternoon while shopping there.

Mrs. Ng Piu-king had her handbag snatched last evening while walking along Caine Road, near Aberdeen Street. The bag contained $261 in cash and a subscription book belonging to the Hong Kong Women's War Relief Association.

BATTLING RIO SHINES

H.K. Boxer Wins At Singapore

News have been received from Singapore that "Batling" Rio, the welterweight champion of Hong Kong, making his first appearance at the New World Arena, Singapore, scored an easy victory against Harold Windsor, a tough boxer of the Straits Settlements in an eight 3-minute rounds bout.

It is noteworthy that Harold Windsor had 32 fights to his record in Singapore, and is considered one of the toughest welterweights in Malaya. It was stated that Harold Windsor took severe punishment, only his ruggedness stood him out. "Batling" Rio amazed the crowd of about 2,500 in his gameness and skill.

"Batling" Rio gave a very fine exhibition at the Po Hing Theatre, Kowloon, a few months ago when he met "Fus" Morgan in a 10 round bout. Previous to these fights, he won several on the K.O. route. "Bill Bash'em," a Malayan Chinese, and "Sky" Lee, the Hong Kong Chinese star-boxer, among them.

TO MEET FERNANDEZ

"Batling" Rio was a star pupil of the Sunshine Gymnasium, Kowloon. His trainer says that if he keeps a cool head, he should make further progress. "Rio" expresses his wish to meet Ignacio Fernandez, the Welterweight Champion of the Orient who is now fighting in Singapore, and that he is confident of beating the Filipino.

If "Rio" beats Fernandez, he is certain of a good welcome in the United States. He possesses a terrific right punch, and, according to his old trainer, he will go far in the world of boxing.
